The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

Power of the Pen

Don't underestimate the potency of your letters to your Congressman.

This column saw a Senate Bill amendment withdrawn recently as a result of its communication with U.S. Senator Alan Cranston.

Earlier this year, the editor had been in communication with Senator Cranston regarding President Nixon's request for laws that would widen the range of libel and slander complaints.

As reported in this column on March 28, Cranston, a former newsman, replied, "The country is not suffering from unscrupulous press attacks on public figures but rather from unscrupulous attacks by public figures on truth, morality and law."

Cranston was referring to people such as Donald Segretti who spread lies about Democratic candidates including Sens. Edmund Muskie (Maine), Henry Jackson (Wash.) and Hubert Humphrey (Minn.) and Rep. Shirley Chisholm (N.Y.). He also had reference to other persons involved in Watergate.

Then a few days ago, Sen. Herman Talmage, a Georgia Democrat, by sponsoring a libel amendment which he explained had but a single goal — to end an abuse known as "dirty tricks", a matter he had experienced as a member of the special Senate Watergate committee.

"There is no place or need for outright lying in campaigns, especially when lies carry strong and sensational charges," Talmadge said.

Senator Clairborne Pell, a Democrat of Rhode Island, backed Senator Talmadge's amendment noting that it was now virtually impossible for a public official to win a libel suit— he must prove that the libel was malicious and false and done with malicious intent. The amendment seemed simple. It read "No person shall cause to be published a false and defamatory statement about character or professional ability of a candidate for federal office with respect to the qualifications of that candidate for that office if such person knows that such statement is false."

Violations would draw maximum penalties of $1,000 in fines and six months in jail.

It differed from a 1798 law that did not require the labelous material to be false. That law lasted only three years.

The amendment appeared to be so popular that Senate Republican Whip Robert P. Griffen (Mich.) urged a delay from Friday until Monday because there were so few members present and many of them would like to have their vote attached to an amendment that seemed to be popular.

Senator Talmadge was so confident of victory that he obligingly agreed to the matter being put over to Monday.

Here's where we come in!

Upstairs, in the nearly-empty visitors gallery, as also reported in a story in the Washington Star-News, was Murray Flander, an aide to Senator Cranston. It was Flander, probably, that had done most of the research on Cranston's communication to this column — the column published on March 28. He became concerned over the broad sweep of the Talmadge amendment, an opinoin based on the knowledge he acquired in researching this newspaper's March column. He saw dangers that had been missed by supporters of the Bill.

Flanders caught up with Senator Cranston who was getting ready to leave his office on his way to a meeting — of all groups — of the American Newspaper Publishers Association. Since Cranston has long been a champion of freedom of the press as guaranteed under the First Amendment of the Constitution, he had a matter of importance to pass on to this group. In attendance also was Richard M. Schmidt of the American Society of Newspaper Editors. Cranston's alarm was passed on to this group, too.

The story of the threat passed along like wildfire. Watergate committee chairman Sam J. Ervin (Dem. N.C.) became involved through his constitutional rights subcommittee. That committee prepared to oppose the amendment. So did Sens. P. Hart (D.-Mich.) and Edward M. Kennedy (D. Mass.) both civil liberty supporters.

Talmadge was accused of conspiring with Nixon regarding his proposed toughter libel law — an accusation Talmadge denied strongly.

Then came opposition from the press — the Georgia press in particular, and the folks from back home. Talmadge withdrew his amendment before it could come to a vote. He said his amendment was not intended to affect good-faith reporting of campaign news by employees of news publications—but "I . . . desire to stop . . . dirty tricks as practiced during the 1972 presidential election campaign . . ."

Talmadge explained later that the amendment had been badly drafted at staff level. "We started out with the best of intentions and wound up with the worst results . . . we're very red-faced. No senator likes to withdraw an amendment. It's like eating crow."

Talmadge said he didn't want to get into the area of criminal libel. He just wanted to punish men like Segretti.

In a letter to this column a couple of days ago, Cranston said, "The threat (to press freedom) comes from different, often unexpected sources. And sometimes unwittingly.

"The latest came in the form of a proposed amendment by Senator Herman Talmadge to the public financing Bill. The Senator was trying to strike at political dirty tricks of the type and almost hit the press in the process."

And the whole story went into the Congressional Record.

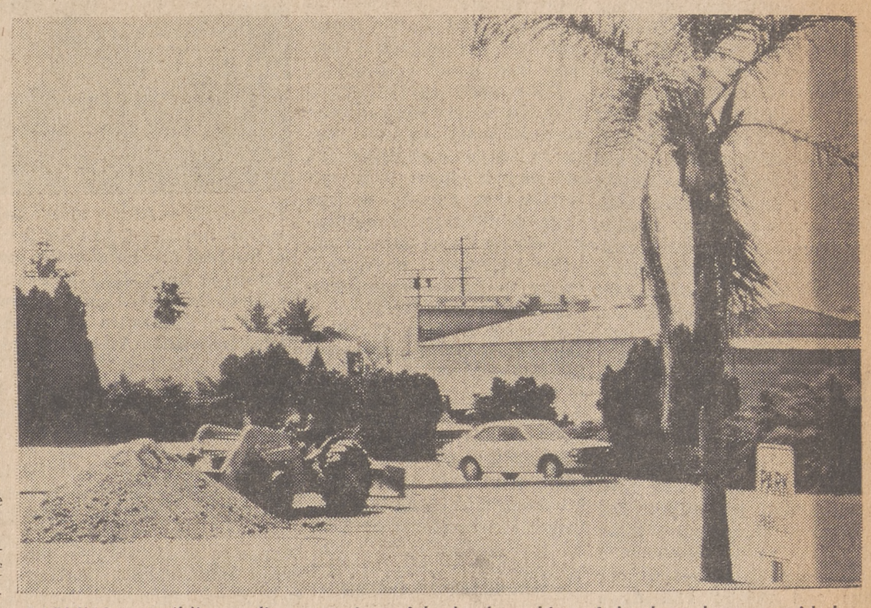
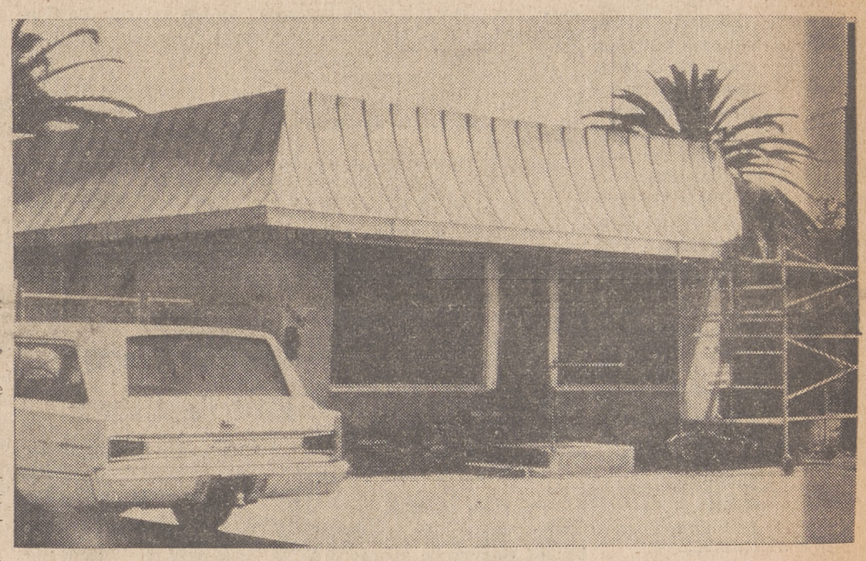
Changing Face of Lemon Grove

Few communities remain the same, but sometimes it seems that changes occur too rapidly to keep track of them. Physical changes in Lemon Grove were going on all last week and the camera caught some of the destruction and construction in our town.



PARKING — Buildings adjacent to Imperial Savings and Loan on Broadway were torn down last week to make room for more bank parking. A bank spokesman said the land may later be used for expansion.



ROOF — A new "dutch style" roof is in the process of being completed for the Union Sheet Metal Company at 7890 Lester ave., in Lemon Grove.

FAST FOOD — Construction is almost at the half-way mark on the Jack-in-the-Box, fast-food restaurant, going up on Broadway and Kempf sts. It will eventually become part of the Lemon Tree Shopping Center.

RENTAL — Beasley Electric Service is putting up this structure on Imperial ave. at Grove. What purpose it will serve is up to the tenant who leases the property, a spokesman for Beasley said.

County Engineer Refutes Complaint

No Condominium; No Giveaway On Berry St.-San Miguel Park

A Lemon Grove resident, Glenn Olson, of 2265 Berry st., said this week that he had complained to the County Board of Supervisors regarding the proposed park at Mt. Vernon and Berry.

He said that his complaint included a charge that the price was too high ($17,000 an acre) and that no parking was being provided for the 5½-acre development. He also charged that a roadway on the park property is being built at county expense to accommodate a condominium proposed for the north west corner of the park area. That property is in private ownership.

Olson said that when he inquired of county engineers about a road at the west side of the property—that should be in public domain—the road was blocked with truckloads of dirt.

Olson is a retired civil service employee who has lived on Berry st. for about three years. He said that most residents on Berry st. have a half-acre or more land and that the condominium would adversely change the character of the community.

Supervisor Dick Brown, easily accessible on the matter, reminded that the park is not being acquired as taxing district project. He also noted that multi - unit construction must be approved by County Planning if it is in variance with the present zoning of the area. Public hearings are required on variances.

Outside Appraisal

Richard Freeland, senior civil engineer for the County, who is involved with the acquisition and scheduling development of the park, said Tuesday that the property was appraised by a "fee appraisContinued on Page 8

Mail Bag

Dear Editor:

May I, through your newspaper, express my heartfelt thanks to Sheriff John R. Duffy for his outstanding Liaison League Rehabilitation Program incorporated in the San Diego County Jail. I am a product of this program and will be forever grateful for the help I received.

Mrs. Quincy White, the Correctional Counselor in the Women's Section of the Jail, introduced me to my Liaison League sponsor about six weeks prior to my release from the Jail, after having spent six months there.

It is difficult for a woman to maintain her identity in the jail, the Liaison League is working toward correcting this, as well as the humanization of all inmates. My sponsor visited me weekly, kept me in touch with my two teenage daughters and brought me news of their welfare. These visits sustained me and gave me hope for the future. She also found suitable housing for me upon my release, was there to provide transportation when I was released, and has been a constant source of encouragement and help since.

The ladies of the Liaison League Rehabilitation Program have provided me with a typewriter and cassette tape recorder so that I could start a secretarial service in my home. They have also been my ardent supporters and customers since, and I think of them as friends now. I was released almost a year ago and they're still there when I need them.

I can't say enough about Sheriff Duffy's program in the Jail. The Liaison League sponsors are available to the other women in the jail also, and I can't think of a more worthwhile program for women in correctioinal facilities. Each time I sit down at my typewriter I think of the help these ladies have given me in "Helping Others to Help Themselves," which is their credo. I am once again a self-sustaining member of our community, thanks to them.

I would be happy to have you publish my letter, but ask that you use only my initials if you do, as I still have my daughters to consider and would not want them to suffer in any way from my mistakes.

Sincerely,
C.P.W.
El Cajon

SD VISTA Needs Volunteers Now

VISTA (Volunteers In Service To America), sponsored by the International Council for Business Opportunity, has opened a city-wide search for Volunteer applicants with business backgrounds to staff local minority business assistance projects for one year.

"You don't have to leave San Diego to get involved in VISTA," said Ralph S. Coleman, a spokesman for ACTION, the federal umbrella aggency which administers VISTA, the Peace Corps and other programs.

During their one year assignments, VISTA business management specialists will provide counseling services, concentrating on the creation of new minority-owned businesses and the expansion of existing minority business operations. Ultimately, according to Coleman, local neighborhood community resources and manpower will be developed to such an extent, that the area will become largely self-reliant. "We want to use the skills in each community rather than hiring people from the outside," he explained.

Loan packaging, assisting small businesses to bring money back into each community and teaching people business techniques so they can use their skills to start new businesses were described by Coleman as typical of the assignments available to VISTA's with management, accounting or marketing backgrounds.

Among the VISTA activities sponsored by the San Diego Interracial Council for Business Opportunity will be the identification of areas of financing, personnel management and training, marketing and advertising to expand local minority businesses.

With a training deadline of eight days preceding early July assignments, a goal of 25 applications was announced by Coleman who set June 15 as the final day VISTA applicants will be expanded.

During the one year of local service, VISTA Volunteers will receive living allowances, an additional $50 monthly stipend, and medical coverage. Applicants must be in good health, and at least 20 years of age. Coleman said that there are no upper age limits. Detailed project information is available at the San Diego area Peace Corps/VISTA office, 1068 Sixteenth st. or local representatives may also be contacted by calling 293-5083. Office hours are listed from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Reserve Center To Seek Name

The Army has a new Reserve Center at Camp Pendleton — but needs a name for it.

The new center, to be home base for large numbers of Army Reserve troops from throughout San Diego County and parts of Imperial County, will be dedicated in November. In line with long-standing military custom, a bronze plaque will be placed at the installation memorializing a soldier hero from the area the center serves.

A committee named to select the deceased soldier for dedication and memorial ceremonies and placing of his name on the plaque is asking for suggestions.

Preferred is the name of a soldier killed in the Vietnam or Korean war. It is desired that he be an enlisted man and have served in such a manner as to have been awarded posthumously the Medal of Honor. It is particularly desired to honor a member of the Army Reserve although that is not mandatory.

Persons having a name to recommend for memorialization at the new Reserve Center should submit the name to John Pinkerman, chairman of the dedication and selection committee (phone 299-7000), or to Maj. Richard L. Carpenter, project officer for the dedication (phone 460-4955).

Cowboy star Tom Mix was killed at the height of his career in an auto accident in 1940 in Arizona.

Consumer Comments On Labeling Wanted

The Federal Trade Commission has issued a "Call for Comment" on fabric care labeling.

Generally speaking, the present rule requires all textile items of wearing apparel to have a label containing care instructions necessary for their ordinary use and enjoyment. The labels must stay attached, be legible for the life of the garment, and easy to find.

Piece goods (yardage) purchased by the consumer to make articles of wearing apparel must also be accompanied by a label containing appropriate care instructions.

The FTC is considering changes in its trade regulation rule relating to the care labeling of textile wearing apparel and needs consumer comments by June 15. They're asking consumers to speak their mind on these questions:

—What problems have you had with care labels?

—Do they give complete, clear instructions?

—Can you give examples of labels you have found to be unclear, inadequate or misleading?

—How can they be improved?

—Should the coverage of the Rule be extended? i.e. should household fabrics and suede and leather clothing be labeled?

Send your comments — by June 15 to:

Federal Trade Commission
Box D
Washington, D.C. 20580

Your response will help the FTC tailor future fabric labels to your specifications.

HOME-COOKED

This Week's RECIPE

With the price of beef dropping, why not include these elegant hamburgers in your next picnic menu. They would go well with a marinated salad of some sort, potatoes and chilled fruit with cheese for dessert.

San Francisco Burgers

1 finely chopped onion
1 crushed garlic clove
2 pounds lean ground beef
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1 egg
1/2 cup Paul Masson Burgundy
2 cups strong beef broth
sourdough rolls
Butter

Mix onion, garlic, meat, salt, pepper, egg and wine. Let stand a few minutes. Heat the beef broth and keep at a bare simmer shape the meat into patties the size and shape of the rolls. Stack the patties with waxed paper in between until ready to grill. Grill on a lightly greased heavy skillet. When hamburger patties are grilled, transfer them to a warm plate. Slice the rolls, and butter each half. Grill the rolls butter side down until golden, in the same spot on which the meat was grilled. Dip the roll halves in the beef broth. Assemble the burgers with catsup and mustard if desired. Makes 8 serving.

Mexican Champ Billed On Coliseum Anniversary

Manuel Elizondo, a home-grown lad from the Danny Rodriguez stable who recently captured the Mexican national middleweight title, will tangle with Puerto Rico's scrappy Jose Gonzalez in a special anniversary boxing show this Friday at the Coliseum.

In a co-attraction, undefeated junior welterweight sensation Randy Shields will try to make it 7 in a row as a pro at the expense of Mexico City's Jose Macias in a scheduled eight rounder.

Elizondo, a tall, rangy youngster with limited ring experience, was a heavy underdog three weeks ago when he clashed with defending champion Raul Delgado in old Monterrey. A stablemate of ex-junior lightweight boss Ricardo Arredondo, the crafty Delgado had dominated the 160 pound picture for years, turning back such challengers as Alex Olguin, Raul Soriano and Manuel Fierro. But as the 23 year old Elizondo soundly clubbed Delgado for 10 rounds and finally stopped him in the 11th, the aficionados suddenly realized that they had observed one of Mexico's bright new stars in action.

Gonzalez, a veteran campaigner who now lives in Oakland under the guidance of Allen Moore, is on the rebound after dropping an unpopular split decision to Fierro months ago. He has since run off three straight wins, two of which were against local favorites Jose Martin Flores and Chu Cho Garcia. Gonzalez has a career mark of 35-5-2 while Elizondo sports a 15-2-1 record with 10 via the kayo route.

In celebration of his first anniversary at the New Coliseum, promoter-matchmaker Mickey Davies has reduced all ticket prices to $4 for this week's show . . . a reduction of $3.50 on all ringside seats.

Last Week

Irish Mike Nixon, a 22-year old middleweight, who is wending his way over the comeback trail at the age when some fighters are just starting, won a unanimous decision over Arizona champion Vicente Medina Friday night.

Medina was surprisingly durable. He took control of the fight at the halfway point after being badly outpointed by Nixon's rapierlike hooks from inside. Nixon seemed able to land overhand rights whenever he chose early in the fight and it was surprising that he changed his style midway in the fight. When he reverted to the earlier style he racked up points. In the tenth he dropped Medina with an overhand right. Medina was holding on at the bell.

Prelims

A rapidly rising, high-school featherweight Manuel Lujan (San Diego High) KO'd stocky Yuma Duran of Yuma in 2:09 of the first round. Lujan has speed and power. He is yet to be tested on endurance.

In a lightweight match, Rudy Hernandez stopped Danny Tapia in 2:01 of the second round.

Mike Weaver, the undertrained heavyweight from Carlsbad, finished off hulking Lee Mandingo, 250 pounds, in 2 rounds. Weaver has the build of a champion but dressing-room fight aficianados claim he is hard to handle. If he performs in the future as he did Friday, he may rank with Ken Norton on the local heavyweight scene. He told reporters Friday that he will be getting his first formal training from Norton when Norton sets up camp soon for his next fight.

Grand National Stars Due at Cajon Speedway

Grand National stock car Bobby Allison, the Hueytown, Ala. driver who is approaching $1 million mark in race earnings, will join three other NASCAR colleagues in a special six-lap match race Saturday night at Cajon Speedway.

Allison is scheduled to battle some of the world's finest in the Tuborg 400.

Through approval of his sponsor for the last two super speedway campaigns, Allison consented to give the three-eighths of a mile oval a whirl.

He said Cecil Gordon, who finished third in the Grand National standings in 1973 would join him. Two other NASCAR drivers will be named later in the week.

Each driver will be assigned one of the contending super stock cars.

The program will begin with qualifying rounds at 6:30 with the trophy dash slated for 8. The race show will include four eight-lap heats, consolation, Powder Puff Derby, 15 lap semi-main and 30-lap main event.

Meanwhile, they're buzzin' around the pits these nights trying to figure who will reach the winner's circle in the main event. Last week, Mark Stahl became the seventh different victor.

Stahl In First

His victory in last week's 50 lapper moved the 23-year old Stahl into first place in the El Cajon Stock Car Racing Assn. championship scramble.

Stahl finished second and third in other features this season, and has picked up 886 points to runnerup Ron Overman's 795 while Gary Crossland has accumulated 736 and 1971 titleholder Jim Hitt is fourth with 690.

TAKE FIVE

By John E. Wirges

I have to reach a bit to make this fit into the world of fun and games, but the idea is to give the guy a sporting chance and if that is too far afield for the tender hearted, too bad.

To start off with a minority view, I'm probably the last of the Democrats for Nixon. I like the guy, I think he's a helluva scrapper.

"Wait," you yell. "What about Watergate, ITT and milk prices?" What kind of a game was he playing there? He's guilty and right after we give him his fair trial, we're going to hang him."

Hang on, there. You're calling foul too early in the fight. Let's get all the rounds in before we hear the decision. Rough Richard earned his way to the title. Right now he's battling through a series that could decide the Peace Championship of the World.

Sure, he's thrown a few low blows, but the ref is is in there to keep an eye on both fighters. When they need it, he gives them warnings. The other fighters an't no saints either, you know.

And it certainly hasn't been an easy schedule. Rough Richard is supposed to be tricky, but this time they're trading heavy leather in what has to be rated a series of the most violent fights in the history of the game.

Like most seasoned campaigners, Rough Richard has had a few "bad" fights and there have been times when he's really earned the Ref's warnings. But that's how this game is played.

Right now Rough Richard is battling a multiheaded walloper named Watergate and he could lose the nod. But it's really a non-title bout, or at least it's supposed to be.

The title is supposed to be for bigger stakes. Like the draw Rich earned with that graybeard named Viet. Don't forget, he's been maiming title holders for a long time. Rough Richey was was the first to ever come home even.

And then lok how Rough Richard chilled that hothead from the Mid-East. That fight was a long time in the making, but it looks to be over for good now.

It's true the guys covering the fights haven't always been welcome in Dick's dressing room and that his training camp has been off limits from time to time. And for a fighter in the big time, those are stupid mistakes. But it's not all his fault.

He had a couple of handlers named Ehrlichman and Haldeman who didn't read the fight crowd as well as they thought they did. And the three of them committed heavyweight bunders in both training and fight strategy.

You always have a few hangers on around a fight camp, sometimes they can do a job, and sometimes they can't the real mark is made in the ring. And there Rough Richard is a real pro.

He may butt on occasion, cut you with his laces, hit low or even come up with a high knee once in a while. But hell, he's a fighter, not an actor.

And in the unlimited division he's got to face a pair of big Red brawlers, an old hustler named Common Mart, a rip snorting shifty from the Mid-East and a couple more from the Far-East. Then there's been a pair of challengers named Hi-Cost and Impeach waiting in the wings. He's a busy guy.

But Rough Richard can keep up with the pace. He's a knock down, drag out, pier six battler who doesn't quit when the going gets tough, as some pretenders claim they would do in the name of "getting along."

He may shade a few rules, but he's always ready for the worst when the battle comes and in his league, that's really all that counts.

I know that, that's why I'm still in his corner.

'Altered' Racers Get Spotlight at Orange Raceway

The largest field of fuel-burning "altered" roadsters ever seen in California will headline Saturday evening's Fuel Altered Sweepstakes at Orange County International Raceway. 21 entries representing five Western states will battle for qualifying positions with a 12-car first round scheduled for 7 p.m.

Though total wheelbase is restricted to original "roaring twenties" specifications, these fiberglass Model T roadsters today develop upwards of 1600 horsepower. The insertion of a supercharged, 500 cubic inch engine into a chassis extending just 92 inches between wheels qualifies a Fuel Altered as the most difficult of all race cars to control—a Top Fuel Dragster, by comparison, uses an identical powerplant but enjoys a wheel-base of 225 inches or more. Although handling difficulties are nearly predictable, 6.80-second bursts at 215 miles per hour are commonplace wherever these popular cars appear.

A pair of 8-second Pro-Stockers have also been signed to Saturday's event for a long-awaited, "Southern-style" grudge race. Larry Huff's Dodge and Bill Bagshaw's Plymouth will tangle three times in "match race trim", meaning they are free of the weight and cubic inch restrictions imposed during national competition.

Time trials and qualifications will begin at 2 p.m. for both categories on Saturday with the first of four Altered elimination rounds to follow at 7 p.m. Any spectator-side seat is $3; 12 and younger free. Pit passes will be available.

Area Valedictorians Named, Graduation Ceremonies Planned

Gregg Hamann and Thomas Harrington will be the valedictorians when Monte Vista graduates 575 seniors and 80 January graduates at Monte Vista High School, May 13, starting at 7:30 p.m.

The Mt. Miguel valedictorian is Rose Marie Brock and the salutatorian, Stephen Wolfe. The school will graduate 560 students and 54 January graduates, at Mt. Miguel High School on the 13th, beginning at 8 p.m.

Grossmont High School will have 575 graduates, including 80 January grads; Helix High will have 569, 69 of whom were January grads; El Capitan 510 (68 Jan. grads); Granite Hills, 485 (59 Jan. grads); Santana 480 (78 Jan. grads) and El Cajon, 403 (85 Jan. grads).

Graduation ceremonies for Chaparral and Skyline Continuation High Schools will be June 4. A banquet will be held at the Carlton Oaks Country Club at 7 p.m. with speaker Ted Dixon, San Diego County Superintendent of Schools.

The Lemon Grove Rotary Club will present an award to the outstanding boy and girl student at Chaparral and one award to the outstanding student from Skyline. The Grossmont Kiwanis Club will present an award to a student for outstanding scholastic achievement.

Dr. Stanley McClintic, Associate Superintendent of Grossmont Union High School District, said, "Graduation for the students and their families, and the school district, is a happy time. It is the culmination of many hours of effort and management of interpersonal relatioinships between all the people involved in the completion of 13 years of public education. We feel," he continued, "that the students are better able than ever before to meet the challenges of higher education, vocations, and life in our complex society; and they will need to be because it's a more complex society in all respects."

MAXIMUM TAX

Social security taxes were increased January 1. Although the tax rate remains at 5.85 per cent for employees and 5.85 per cent for employers, the tax base was increased from $12,600 to $13,200. This means the maximum tax is now $772.20 for both the worker and his boss.

Aztecs Hang Hopes On Trackman Steve Williams

San Diego State U. sprinter Steve Williams will be the man to beat in both the 100 and 220-yard dashes this week in the NCAA Track and Field Championships in Austin, Tex.

Williams, who has a lifetime best of 9.1 set in the West Coast Relays last year and a seasonal best of 9.2 set at the California Relays in Modesto two weeks ago, will be up against five men who have run 9.2 this season. Heading the list is Chris Garpenborg of Texas (El Paso), who won the 60-yard dash in the San Diego Indoor Games, and University of Tennessee freshman Reggie Jones. The others who have run 9.2 are Marshall Dill of Michigan State and Rey Robinson of Florida A & M. Both Jones and James Gilkes' of Fisk have run wind-aided 9-1 this season. Harold Williams of San Diego State with a best of 9.3 lifetime and 9.4 this season is also entered in the 100.

Steve Williams will enter the NCAA Finals on a two meet losing streak. The fastest of all Aztecs lost a photo finish to Ivory Crockett two weeks ago and was nipped at the wire at the Kennedy Games Saturday by Don Quarrie with Crockett third. Jones was fourth two weeks ago to Crockett, Williams and Quarrie.

Steve is also the favorite in the 220. He has a best of 20.5 this season and the top challengers appear to be Larry Burton of Purdue at 20.5, Larry Brown of Arizona at 20.6, Dave Connolly of BYU at 20.6 and Clancy Edwards of Cal Poly (SLO) at 20.6. Mark Lutz of Kansas has run a wind-aided 20.3. Harold Williams is also entered with a best of 20.8. Last week at the Kennedy Games Harold finished second to Quarrie at 21.1. Harold is the Pacific Coast Athletic Association Champion and has a season best of 20.8.

Intermediate hurdler Garry Greene will be the only other Aztec entered in the meet. Greene, who has a lifetime best of 51.9 will have to beat the likes of Mike Lee of Kansas Sttte at 50.4, Jimmy Gailey of Baylor and Mike Shine of Penn State at 50.5.

San Diego State's hopes of an NCAA Championship disappeared with Jimmy Redd's knee injury. Redd has a best of 46.4 in the 440-yard dash this year and figured very high in that race, but perhaps more importantly he was a member of both San Diego State's relay team.

Murphy, Couppee On CoC Program

The second set in the San Diego Chamber of Commerce new Sports Action '74 breakfast series got underway today, with Padre president, Buzzie Bavasi at the podium.

There are two remaining breakfasts, they are:

June 20, popular Al Couppee, will share his views of the San Diego sports scene, views formed upon a background in football, baseball, boxing, sportsfishing... and sportscasting. "Coup" to his many San Diego friends, is a member of the California State Athletic Commission; promises to provide a new perspective on local sports action.

The remaining breakfasts, like others in the series, will be at 7:30 in the Don Room of El Cortez Hotel. The public is invited and reservations can be made by calling the Chamber of Commerce, 232-0124, extension 36. Cost is $3.75.

Racquetball Tourney Starts Today in S.D.

Steve Serot, 18, who will attend San Diego State U. next fall, and defending champion Charles Brumfield are among the world's top racquetball players entered in the International Racquetball Association tournament starting today in San Diego.

Steve Keeley, Steve Strandemo and Mike Zeitman complete the top five seeds for the four-day event with the winner recognized as the world racquetball champion.

Serot, leading money winner on the National Racquetball Club tour, along with Keeley and Strandemo are the most likely players in the field of 64 qualifiers to unseat Brumfield, 25, who has won the IRA title the past two years.

All four players live in San Diego. Zeitman, the other strong contender, is from Louisville, Ky.

expected for the tournament with singles competition in five divisions: masters (45 and above), seniors (35-45), open, juniors (18 and under) and women. The women also will compete in doubles.

The tournament will be held at the San Diego Handball-Racquetball Club (Brown's) on Kearny Villa Way, where seating is available for about 800 persons.

Two rounds of matches will be played starting at 8 a.m. and continuing at night on Thursday ad Friday. Saturday's semi-final matches are scheduled to begin at 1 o'clock as are Sunday's finals.

Tickets are priced from $3-$7 on Thursday and Friday, from $4-$8 on Saturday and from $5-$9 on Sunday. Season tickets for all four days are available.

Larry Hageman's outstanding ride in last week's feature would appear to place him as the leading candidate to become the eighth different main event winner. But, the list is long and Cactus Henyan, rookie Bobby Roland, Bill Spencer, Lanny Pemberton ana Larry Aufdengarten can't be counted out, either.

An indication of how rough it is to make the feature on the banked asphalt oval was it took a time of :18.06 or better to crack the 20 car lineup last week.

Top five racers are: Mark Stahl, Chula Vista; Ron Overman, El Cajon; Gary Crossland, Santee; Jim Hitt, Lemon Grove, and Pat McIntyre, Spring Valley.

Close Tops In C.C.C. Track Meet

Freshman Gary Close became only the third Grossmont College track athlete to win a state championship when he took first place in the California Community College three-mile finals at Bakersfield last week.

Only Armando Valencia, who won the mile in 1970, and Ed Mendoza, who won the three-mile last year, have one track state championship. Close is the first freshman to earn the high honor.

CHP Academy Recruits Women Cadets for Force

For the first time in history, the California Highway Patrol (CHP), on May 24, began accepting applications from women who desire to be traffic officers.

CHP Commissioner Walter Pudinski said that if the recruiting effort is successful, approximately 40 female cadets will begin training during September at the CHP's Academy in Sacramento.

The two year test program meets with the requirements contained in a bill that has been approved by the California State Senate and passed on to the Assembly.

The basic requirements a woman must posses include sound physical condition, strength, endurance and agility. The minimum height is 5 feet, 6 inches and the minimum weight is 122 pounds. The weight must also be proportional to the woman's height and age.

The woman must be in good health, free of disabling physical defects and enjoy effective use of both hands. The sight in each eye can be no worse than 30/40 without correction and capable of being corrected to 20/20. She may not be color blind and must possess normal hearing.

The age limits are fom 21 to 31. Applicants may be marrier or unmarried and motherhood is not a factor.

The women must be high school graduates or possess, and be able to prove possession of the equivalent of a twelfth grade education. Each one must also possess a current California driver's license. Any woman convicted of a felony is disqualified by state law.

Women whose applications are accepted will be scheduled to take a written examination and physical agility test on July 20. It will be given in San Diego.

Those who pass will meet an oral board approximately nine days later. The board will be comprised of a senior CHP official, a State Personnel Board representative and a member of the public.

Successful candidates must pass a medical examination and will undergo background investigations. Their names will then be placed on an eligible list which will be used for the September appointments to the Academy.

Upon graduation, the women will be assigned to CHP field offices where they will receive further training. They then will be assigned to the CHP's black and white enforcement vehicles and will perform exactly the road patrol duties now accomplished solely by male officers.

Pudinski said that any woman who meets the basic criteria and is interested in a law enforcement career may obtain an application form and additional information from any CHP field office. The forms may also be obtained by writing direct to Recruiting Section, California Highway Patrol, Box 898, Sacramento 95804 or the State Personnal Board, 8001 Capitol Mall, Sacramento.

The completed written application must be received by the State Personnal Board prior to June 21, 1974.

"One key fact that all potential applicants should remember", said Pudinski, "is that the CHP is color blind. "We don't care about color, race or religion. The women we are looking for are those who want—and can do—the best job."

Patricia Kellog, Marlene Ketell, Naomi Marshall, Bill Dickensen of Mountain View Printers and Ed Fleming of La Jolla Federal Savings and Loan still have a year to go to complete their terms of office.

The general membership must vote at the meeting on the acceptability of the candidates before they can become members of the Board.

The date of the Installation dinner and who will be the guest speaker will be announced at the meeting.

FREE HOUSE SIGNS — Pretty Miss Lemon Grove, Carol Klee, displays a type of 2-part, 3-dimensional house or business sign that is being given to visitors of the Lemon Grove Goodyear store for a limited time. With Miss Klee is Ed Nomura, owner of the firm which is at 6883 Federal blvd. The signs are weatherproof and permanent and will show the last name of the recipient, together with the street number. No purchase is necessary to get a sign, Nomura said. The signs are produced in Lemon Grove by Dynametrics, at Broadway and Sweetwater rd. "We are giving the signs to anyone who will visit our store just so we can get acquainted," Nomura said. "Dynametrics is collaborating in the give-away to become better known as a manufacturer of good, inexpensive signs."

Day Camp Offers Variety for Kids

Registration is now underway for the Salvation Army's day camps for children, according to Brigadier Robert Yardley, City Commander.

Weekly camping sessions will begin the week of June 17-21, and will continue throughout the summer until the final session, August 12-16.

The camps are for children aged 7 through 13, said Yardley. Lee Lescano of the Salvation Army is day camp director.

Campers will spend Mondays at Balboa Park, touring museums and doing crafts. Visits to Torrey Pines State Park are scheduled for Tuesdays. Wednesday camps feature a visit to the San Diego Wild Animal Park in San Pasqual Valley. Swimming and recreation at Mission Bay are scheduled for Thursdays. The camps wind up on Friday each week with an all-day visit to Sea World.

Camp sessions begin at 8:30 a.m. and end at 3:30 in the afternoon. Children are picked up at scheduled elementary school stops in Salvation Army buses and are returned at the end of each day's session.

Yardley said that a fee of $7 per child for the entire week is charged. This fee includes all admission tickets, transportation, crafts, an official Salvation Army Day Camp shirt, counselors, lifeguards, and insurance. Each child should bring a sack lunch.

Since the camps are limited to sixty children per week, Yardley urges that registrations be made well in advance. Applications are available at most elementary schools and at the City Command Office at 830 8th ave. in San Diego.

Yardley said that more than 8000 children were included in the day camps in 1973.

Bus Stop' First Class At Off Broadway Theatre

Adrianne Barbeau

By Max Goodwin

If you're so young that bus stops are a mysterious part of yester-year and another part of the world, you'll have to watch awhile before you can accept the atmosphere surrounding the current offering at Don Wortman and Tom Hartzog's Off Broadway Theatre in San Diego at 314 F street.

A generation ago, bus and train stations were dreary things. The setting for William Inge's "Bus Stop" dutifully reflects that era. And so do some of the play situations.

But the acting is first-class. "Bus Stop" has Adrienne Barbeau, as Cheri, a honkytonk singer who has been forced by Bo Decker (John Calvin) a young, handsome ranch-owning cowboy, to accompany him aboard a bus enroute to Wyoming for the purpose of marriage.

The bus is snowbound overnight at the stop 30 miles west of Kansas City. More factually, Bo kidnaped her and she resents it even though she is light in the moral department. But Bo is the strong, outdoorsman type who is attempting to bulldoze Cherie into marriage and a life with children on a ranch. It is only after humility is forced on Bo that "happiness ever after" enters the picture.

Ms. Barbeau is best noted for her part as "Maude's" liberated daughter on television. She's a beautiful woman.

Calvin has appeared in tv's "Mod Squad", "Cannon" and "Columbo". He's fine as Bo Decker. Other roles were fine, too, with the possible exception of Earle Mac Veigh as an alcoholic professor enroute by bus from nowhere to nowhere. The director, Leslie Cutter, saw fit to have him overact. He came off unfunny and lacking in stage character.

But Lezlie Dalton, as waitress; John LaMotta, as the sheriff; Jane A. Johnston, as the restaurant owner; Paul Luthaker, as the bus driver, and Mark Gardner as a ranch hand, performed their tasks with skill.

All of the action takes place in one set—the stopover restaurant.

"Bus Stop" will be at Off Broadway throughout June.

Local Juniors To Attend Boys State

Howard J. Grundloh of Monte Vista High and David C. Helgenson of Mt. Miguel High were among those named to represent La Mesa Post 282 of the American Legion at the 37th annual session of Boys' State to be held in Sacramento, June 22 to June 29.

Joining Grundloh and Helgenson will be David E. Benson, Grossmont High; Michael Hartpence, Santana High; Mark Lolli, Helix High; Mario J. Ronstad, El Capitan High and Kerry A. Schimpf, Granite Hills High.

The boys were named by counsellors from each school and then interviewed by a board of Legionnaires from the post. They will join over 950 other juniors at the "Laboratory of Political Science" to be held at Sacramento Junior State College.

Boys attending the annual session are sponsored by: La Mesa Exchange Club; La Mesa Kiwanis Club, Lemon Grove Kiwanis Club, La Mesa Rotary Club and the Past Commanders Club of Post 282.

"Our entire purpose of Boys' State is to help give these young people, the top representatives of their high schools, an understanding of the structures and workings of their government" J. E. Duffy Boys' State Chairman from the post said.

Each boy registers June 22 and will be assigned to a city area with approximately 40 other boys. The cities, named after famous early Californians, are the basic governmental unit for Boys' State. These cities in groups of three comprise eight counties.

Each boy is also assigned to a political party as he registers so that he can see how political parties function. The boys develop their own party platform and decide their own issues.

The boys select party slates and elect assemblymen, senators, other constitutional officers and a Boys' State Governor. At the end of the session the boys choose two members to be sent to Boys' Nation held later in the year in Washington, D.C.

In winning the state 1974 three-mile championship, Close was clocked in 14:04.3, chopping nine seconds off his previous best time.

Four Griffins qualified for the state meet and three of them placed. In addition to Close, sophomore Bob Wilson (4:14.4) was fourth in the one mile and sophomore Chris Hallmon (:14.9) was fifth in the high hurdles.

Sally Harris Installed As Sweet Adelines President

A Lemon Grove woman was recently installed as president of the San Diego Chapter of Sweet Adelines at the Padre Trail Inn in Old Town. Sweet Adelines is a non-profit international organization of wome who enjoy singing four-part harmony as a hobby.

Mrs. Sally Harris, the new president, was born in San Diego and has lived in Lemon Grove for 15 years. Her grandparents moved to Lemon Grove in 1940, raised chickens and had a small truck garden. "I feel right at home here at the greatest climate on earth" she comments about Lemon Grove.

Mrs. Harris attended San Diego City schools and graduated from Hoover High School in 1945. She and her husband of 20 years, Harmon, and daughters Laurie, 18, (freshman at Grossmont Jr. College) and Shannon, 9 (Vista-La Mesa Elementary School) enjoy bicycling and camping.

Harris and Shannon have traveled about 3,000 miles on their bicycle built for two (called tandem bike). Mrs. Harris belongs to the Bicycle Touring Club. She also enjoys flower arranging. Her husband is Production Planning Division Director at the Navy Air Rework Facility, North Island.

Mrs. Harris has been with San Diego Sweet Adelines 4½ years and served 4 of those years on the board of directors, and has served as Secretary once. She said, "I joined SD Sweet Adelines because singing is sheer delight to me and had no idea that I would go from singing to gavel within 4½ years."

The SD Adelines will be providing free entertainment at the Grossmont Shopping Center, in front of The Broadway, from 1:30-4:30 on June 9 and 30th and July 14.

Condominium

er" (a hired appraiser) and that the price was at his appraisal.

He said that the seller of the property kept 1½ acres at the northwest corner of the original plot for development. His developer had applied to the County Planning for a PRD that would permit a condominium but Planning turned it down because it was ruled too small for that type of development. The developer is said to be trying it at the next highest density but that, too, will have to go to Planning.

Freeland said that the county may or may not sell the developer a strip from the parkland, but "the County is not going to build anything for anybody nor give anything away."

Regarding the dirt dropped on what is thought by Olson to be a thoroughfare, Freeland said "there is no record of any activity on the west end of the property. But there could be no road closure without a public notice of a hearing on it I would be aware if such a notice was filed."

Federal funds will be used for purchasing and developing the park.

LG Rotary Installs New Officers at Banquet

An Installation Banquet is planned for incoming Lemon Grove Rotary officers this Saturday evening at the Ox Bow Inn, beginning at 6:30.

Robert Tomko of Vista, a past District Governor, will be the installing officer.

The incoming officers to be installed include: Dale Bailey, president; Myron Fessler, M.D. president-elect; Jack Mallory, treasurer; Forrest Jones, secretary; John Factor, John Stenbeck, Leonard Klein and Dr. Robert Pyle, directors.

The outgoing officers are: Bob Guest, president; Jack Mallory, treasurer; Forrest Jones, secretary; Richard Cavallaro, D.D.S., John Factor, Myron Fessler, M.D. and Rolla Hamilton, directors.

Bob Guest, outgoing president, said that his main emphasis during his term of office was increasing membership. He said that membership of the Lemon Grove club has risen approximately 20 per cent.

Guest said he was also proud that the club had been able to contribute $1,000 to the Rotary Foundation which arranges scholarships for foreign study.

The biggest disappointment for Guest, he said, was "I didn't get everything done I wanted to do this year."
